VI. New Business
Mathematics Program Review:
Sheryl Wills reviewed the Mathematics program for the committee. The report discussed the changes in the department’s assessment plan on the program and general educations courses from the past APC report. She discussed the strengths of the department which included committed faculty, diverse curriculum and outreach programs that are offered. She emphasized the cohesiveness of the department. She also presented the challenges that are facing the program. The challenges include hiring faculty in statistics and math education, lack of office space, the movement of the SWTC staff away from the department, salaries of the faculty and academic staff, the budget of the department (This included the funding of work visas for faculty. Six years ago the work visa cost $185.00 today it costs $850.00), the lack of classroom space (the department will need 15 classrooms when the target student population of 8000 are met on campus) and insufficient administrative support for the department chair.

Brian Peckham asked that Sheryl Wills prioritize the list of challenges. She indicated that the lack of administrative support would be first and then resources of the department would be second. These resources would include budget, space, time and money.

Christina Curra indicated that she received faculty responses that indicated they were hesitant to respond to the self study for fear of being identified.

Brian Peckham moved that the APC strongly endorse the Mathematics department and support the needs of the department and emphasize that resources should be given to find administrative support for the department.

Jennifer Snoek-Brown amended the motion by commending the mathematics department on doing a fine job especially with the resources that are given them and with the large number of students that they work with on campus.

Christina Curra seconded the motion.

The motion passed.

VIII. Meeting was adjourned at 5:41 p.m.
