Passion for education drives alumnus to volunteer, donate

Ten years after her high school graduation, Jill Bisco decided to pursue her associate's degree and found a passion for education she didn't know she had. Her associate's degree at UW-Richland Center led to a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from UW-Platteville in 2005. Now, Bisco has obtained a master’s degree and Ph.D. and is an assistant professor at the University of Akron in Ohio. Almost a decade after completing her program, she still credits UW-Platteville with inspiring her educational and professional journey.

April 5 - Last day to drop a spring 2015 second 8-week session online course and receive 50% of refundable
It would be an understatement to say Sherry Janssen is a busy woman. As the Manager of Engineering for Shopko Stores, Inc., Janssen oversees all supply chain engineering projects throughout a wide logistics network. So while she knew obtaining her master's degree in engineering would help her career, she also knew adding education to an already precarious work/life balance could be difficult.

New history course available

UW-Platteville Distance Education is offering a new general education course for undergraduate students, HISTORY 1430 - History of the US Since 1877. This course will be offered in the summer and fall of 2015 and will be taught by Dr. J. Jae Lee.
