Citing Sources

Check with the instructor who will be grading the paper to learn required citation styles.

Refer to the style manuals:

Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association  Reference BF76.7 .P83 2010
Chicago Manual of Style  Reference PN147 .C57 2010

Also visit Citation Guides & Writer’s Resources

Journal Article—Online Through a Library’s Subscription

[5.6.4] Database Title. Web. day Month year accessed.

[7.01, 1] Digital Object Identifier (DOI)

deficit models. Neuropsychology, 29, (2) 163-172. doi: 10.1037/a0027975

To cite an article with no DOI assigned, refer to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association section  [7.01, 3].
Web Site

MLA

Name of author, compiler, director, editor, narrator, performer, or translator of the site, if given. Title of the Site. Publisher or sponsor of the site; if not available, use N.p. Web. Date of access (day, month, year). Include the URL if the reader probably cannot locate the source easily or if the instructor requires it.

APA

Informally published or self-archived work

Note: Do not end the reference with a period, if the period would follow a URL. If no author is given for the web page, begin the citation with the title. Do not split a URL with a hyphen.

Newspaper — Online

MLA

APA