SUMMER PAY POLICY

On-Campus Courses: BILSA's policy is to pay 2/81sts of the 9-month base salary for each credit hour when there are 15 or more undergraduate students enrolled in an undergraduate course or 12 or more graduate students enrolled in a graduate level course. The salary is prorated if there are less than 15 or 12 students enrolled.

Distance Courses: Summer classes are paid according to the compensation policies associated with our distance programs.

Short-Term Faculty-Led International Study Courses: Faculty or academic staff members who develop, lead, and teach classes (a) that include short-term international travel/study, (b) for which students pay summer tuition and receive credit, and (c) for which the instructor has properly complied with all university, college, and department/school policies governing such courses and travel will be paid 2/81sts of their 9-month base salary for each credit hour when there are 10 or more students enrolled. This salary will be prorated if there are less than 10 students enrolled.
