

Dawn Drake Excellence in Distance Education Scholarship

This scholarship has been established by Dawn Drake, Executive Director of Alternative Delivery Systems at UW-Platteville. This Scholarship is in recognition of the important role that distance education has played in Dawn's life, both personally and professionally. It is also a recognition of the many sacrifices that distance learners make to successfully juggle education, career, and family.

The following criteria shall be used in the annual selection of the recipient:

1. The recipient shall be a degree-seeking student enrolled in any UW-Platteville Distance Education Program.
2. The scholarship will be available to anyone who has successfully completed at least one class toward their degree and is planning to continue their studies with UW-Platteville's distance education programs.
3. Academic achievement will be a consideration. A cumulative GPA of 3.0 will be required for selection.
4. A one-page essay by the applicant describing why you believe you are deserving of the scholarship, and why you are obtaining your degree at a distance.

Amount: $500
