What is the number one thing your institution can do to improve the workplace for faculty?

The diagram shows the percentage of faculty who believe work-life balance, teaching, research, and other priorities are the most important factors for improving the workplace.

The Excel version of this report (found in the Report Portal) includes all tables and results.

The full report can be found in the COACHE Survey. Please let us know if there is anything else we can help you with.

University of Wisconsin - Platteville

Faculty Job Satisfaction Survey 2013-14

The Collaborative on Academic Careers in Higher Education